Medical Department Therapies - and our typical indications and applications.

Ozone Therapy

For treating arthritis, fighting viral diseases, such as HIV and SARS, disinfecting wounds, activating the immune system, treating ischemic heart disease, treating macular degeneration, treating cancer.

OxyVein

Hyperbaric oxygen is used to help reverse anaerobic milieu and related metabolic and degenerative processes.

Nutrition Consultation Program

Daily food and beverage is at the very center of our Swiss Biological Medicine health approach. We conduct detailed testing to screen food sensitivities. Patients are often unaware they hurt themselves every day with common foodstuffs until we show them the test results. This unlocks the personal pathway to resolving cause and rolling back disease processes.

It's exciting to use our science to offer patients hope for a better health-maintenance future. We help create practical meal plans, teach food preparation, suggest good alternatives, and assure patients can live comfortably with sustained change and health.

Detox Infusion Therapies

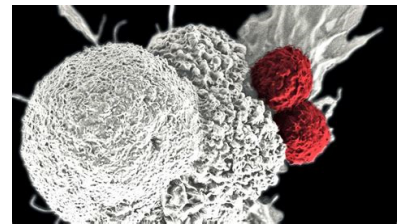

We use IV Infusions in situations where a metabolically significant toxicity is present. We use approaches that are prescribed based upon individual testing. EDTA, DMPS, Vitamin C, are included in our toolbox.

Regenerative Infusion Therapies

We advance micro-circulation, cellular communication, respond to constitution tendencies, and provide cell nutrition with orthomolecular, homeopathic, isopathic and herbal proprietary remedy systems that are often only available here at Paracelsus Clinic.

Organ Cell Extract Injection/Infusion Therapy

This is a powerful regenerative therapy that provides a stimulus to advance recovery of function and regulation in organ systems and joints. This is not a market stem cell catalogue product, this is an individualized organ cell revitalization therapy. See our OCE Packages.

Other Paracelsus Infusions Based upon the patient case we can also provide:

- Alkaline Infusions
- Anti-Infection Formula – to reduce incidence of recurring infections.
- Chronic Lyme Disease Infusions – developed in over 2-decades of refinement.
- Neurological Infusion Therapies – used in our cognitive and degenerative cases.

Whole Body Hyperthermia

This technology is uniquely favoured at Paracelsus Clinic as a powerful contributor to activating detoxification processes, as a fundamental adjunctive cancer therapy, and as an emotional and Body/Mind therapy.

Irathern

A localized water-filtered infrared hyperthermia treatment able to target specific sites of the body. Often used to disrupt tumor growth and advance local detoxification and milieu modulation.

Phytotherapy

Natural herbal extracts are selected for specific cases. The Paracelsus Pharmacy is a highly valued and very experienced complete herbal compounding pharmacy.

Neural Therapy

This specialty is well developed at the Paracelsus Clinic and has been applied here for over 3-decades. This powerful method adds Oriental Medicine meridian understandings to modern remedy systems. Unblocking internal communication advances regulation and recovery, and pain relief, for the entire body.

Oncotherm

The new Oncotherm adjunctive therapy is now available at the Paracelsus Clinic. The method applies direct electric-field energy to cancer cell extracellular liquid to destroy the membrane. Oncothermia leads to an increased immunogenicity and can also reduce patient pain.

Colonic Hydrotherapy

Colonic therapy physically stimulates gut function and lymphatic activity and this can benefit individualized detoxification programs. The therapy activates neural networks of the gut and can contribute to balance of the Autonomic Nervous System. Reflorestation of the gut biome can also be advanced with colonics treatments.
